American Hydrotech Launches iPad App for Planning Vegetative Roofs

Interactive Garden Roof® Planning Guide Now Available for Download

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS (July 2, 2014) American Hydrotech Inc. has released a free, interactive digital version of the company's popular Garden Roof® Planning Guide. The app was unveiled last week at the AIA Expo in Chicago.

Visit www.Hydrotechusa.com/GRPG to download the Garden Roof® Planning Guide app or search for 'American Hydrotech' in the iOS App Store.

Any iPad user can immediately download the app for a comprehensive guide to vegetative roofs, from concept to completion. Users can also learn about the American Hydrotech Garden Roof® Assembly and its benefits, including economic incentives and environmental factors like stormwater management.

The app features pinch-to-zoom product photography, video animations, photo galleries showing Garden Roof® Assemblies in real-world applications, and design considerations.

“Our new app comprises 18 years of vegetative roof experience, presented in a dynamic, personal way,” says Richard Hayden, Garden Roof Department Manager for American Hydrotech. “Our customers now have the unique ability to learn about vegetated roofs on their own terms, with interactive features bringing the information to life.”
